I73RD COMMENCEMENT

MAY 14, 2011

XAVIER
UNIVERSITY

“This composition of our time and place embraces six billion people with their faces young and old, some being born and others dying, some white and many brown and yellow and black. Each one is a unique individual, they all aspire to live life, to use their talents, to support their families and care for their children and elders, to enjoy peace and security and to make tomorrow better.

Thanks to science and technology, human society is able to solve problems such as feeding the hungry, sheltering the homeless or developing more just conditions of life, but stubbornly fails to accomplish this. How can a booming economy, the most prosperous and global ever, still leave over half of humanity in poverty?

Injustice is rooted in a spiritual problem, and its solution requires a spiritual conversion of each one’s heart and a cultural conversion of our global society so that humankind, with all the powerful means at its disposal, might exercise the will to change the sinful structures afflicting our world.”

Rev. Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, S.J.
Superior General Emeritus of the Society of Jesus
Santa Clara University, October 6, 2000

MAGIS AWARD

Mike Moroski

In the 10 years since he graduated, Michael Moroski has established himself as a passionate advocate of the poor in Cincinnati's Over-the-Rhine neighborhood, as well as an inspiring mentor to students at Moeller High School.

After earning a Bachelor of Arts in English, Moroski accepted a teaching position at Moeller, where he has not only instructed his students on the finer points of grammar, but taught them a lesson he learned at Xavier—how to become men for others.

While volunteering as a chaperone for a group of students who were restoring buildings so the poor would have a place to live, he had his own heart touched by the experience. He soon found himself in solidarity with the area's poor, fighting against injustice on their behalf and striving to find ways to make their lives better.

He created a student group called MACH 1—Moeller Advocates for Community Housing—that would return each weekend and restore the housing, and he led weekend retreats that addressed issues such as homelessness, government regulations and the bureaucratic and pragmatic concerns surrounding affordable housing in Cincinnati.

For exemplifying the Jesuit ideals of enhancing the humanity of the poor, improving the world through education and being a man for others, Xavier University is proud to present Michael Moroski with the 2011 Magis Award.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD

John C. Lechleiter

There are many people all over the world who owe John Lechleiter a debt of gratitude for improving their quality of life. And they may not even know his name. As chairman, president and chief executive officer of the Eli Lilly Co., Lechleiter is responsible for the innovation and development of a wide range of pharmaceutical products that not only improve lives but also serve as the answer to some of the world's most urgent medical needs—cancer, diabetes, neurological issues.

Three years ago Lechleiter took over as chairman of Lilly, the world's 10th largest pharmaceutical company, at one of its most challenging times. In that short time, though, he has established a clear vision for future growth using both the leadership skills he's developed on his way up the corporate ladder and the scientific knowledge he's gained from his education and from three decades in the world of chemistry.

After earning his bachelor of science degree in chemistry from Xavier in 1975, Lechleiter went on to become a National Science Foundation Fellow at Harvard University, where he received both his master's and doctorate degrees in organic chemistry. He joined Lilly in 1979 as a senior organic chemist and became head of the company's process research and development division in three years. In 1984, he moved to Windlesham, England, to serve as director of pharmaceutical product development for the Lilly Research Centre in the United Kingdom.

He returned to the United States in 1986 as manager of research and development projects for Europe and quickly began his corporate ascent. He was promoted four times in six years and moved into the corporate ranks as vice president of pharmaceutical product development in 1993. He was appointed vice president of regulatory affairs in 1994, vice president for development and regulatory affairs in 1996, senior vice president of pharmaceutical products in 1998, executive vice president for pharmaceutical products and corporate development in 2001 and executive vice president for pharmaceutical operations in 2004.

In 2005, he was named president and chief operating officer and joined Lilly's board of directors. He became chief executive officer and chairman of the board in 2008.

Over the years, Lechleiter has willingly shared his expertise and wisdom with a number of organizations. In addition to sitting on the board of trustees at Xavier, he is on the board of Nike, the United Way Worldwide, the Life Sciences Foundation and several others. He is a Director of the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America, as well as the Great Lakes Chemical Corporation, and he is a member of the American Chemical Society, Business Roundtable, Business Council and the 2012 Indianapolis Super Bowl Host Committee.

In recognition of his outstanding service to the University and society, and his commitment to Jesuit values, Xavier University is honored to present John C. Lechleiter with its Distinguished Alumnus Award.

PAUL O'CONNOR, S.J. LEADERSHIP AWARD

Roger A. Fortin

Like all great history professors, Roger Fortin has the ability to engage his students in the details and drama of some worldly event as if he had been there as a personal witness. And like all great administrators, Fortin has the ability to listen, learn and lead. For the last 45 years, Xavier has been the beneficiary of this rare combination of skills.

Fortin came to Xavier in 1966 as an assistant professor of history. He had earned his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from St. Francis College in his native Maine and his master's degree in history from the University of New Hampshire, and was still earning his doctorate in American history from Lehigh University.

Known for pacing back and forth in the room, peppering students with questions, Fortin energetically taught and enlightened the minds of students on subjects such as the American Revolution or U. S. Intellectual History, being named Teacher of the Year in 1972 and earning the Outstanding Faculty Award in 1974. He quickly moved up the ranks to associate professor and professor, and served as department chair for eight years. During his ascent, he was introduced to the administrative side of the University by Frank Brennan, S.J., and he unselfishly stepped in and out of the classroom throughout his career to fill such needed roles as academic vice president, dean of Edgecliff College and director of the library. In 2001 he became the University's first and only provost.

Always the historian, Fortin spent his off-hours researching and writing a long list of articles and publications, including Faith and Action: A History of the Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati, 1821-1996, and Xavier's official historical book of record, To See Great Wonders: A History of Xavier University, 1831-2006. He also shared his love of history with others as the main speaker at 18 regional conferences sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Association for State and Local Histories during the 1970s. He also co-produced and participated in more than 50 educational television programs.

Outside of his work at Xavier, Fortin has served as director of the project to renovate the Historic Cincinnati Fire House Museum, as a board member of the Greater Cincinnati chapter of the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Foundation and as a director of the St. Xavier High School's Masterwork Study Project.

In recognition of his 45 years of focused dedication to Xavier University and its mission as well as his wisdom, leadership and tireless work in developing the academic lives of countless students, Xavier University is proud to present Roger Fortin with the Paul L. O'Connor, S.J., Leadership Award.

HONORARY DEGREE CITATION

Charles Geschke

From a young age, Charles Geschke was strongly influenced by the Jesuit priests who guided his education. And as he advanced through his career as co-founder and chairman of Adobe Systems Inc., those lessons of his early life never left him. Rather than trying to codify a collection of rules of conduct for his employees, for instance, he invoked just one rule—the Golden Rule. It has proven to be an excellent business principle, he says, helping him steer Adobe from a start-up to a $3 billion-a-year business with offices worldwide. The company has been voted one of the best companies in America to work for, the second most-admired software company in America and one of the most generous companies in America for its donations.

A Cleveland native, Geschke earned a bachelor's degree in classics and a master's degree in mathematics from Xavier and began teaching math at John Carroll University before being drawn into the burgeoning world of computer science. He left teaching to earn a doctorate in computer science from Carnegie-Mellon University, and then took that knowledge to Xerox PARC's Computer Sciences Laboratory where he was a principal scientist and researcher.

There he met John Warnock, and the pair invented the software that sparked the desktop publishing revolution. Forming Adobe in 1982—naming the company after a creek that ran behind Warnock's home—the two have forever transformed how people create, process and engage with information.

As a result of his innovative spirit, he has received numerous professional recognitions. In 2008 he was awarded the National Medal of Technology and Innovation by President Barack Obama. He won the Marconi Society Award for scientific contributions to human progress in the field of information technology. He was named the national Entrepreneur of the Year in 2003, and ranked the seventh most influential graphics person of the last millennium by Graphic Exchange magazine in 2000. He was elected to the National Academy of Engineering, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a Fellow of the Computer History Museum.

Alongside his professional accomplishments, Geschke has served the community in a broad range of roles, including membership on the boards of the San Francisco Symphony, National Leadership Roundtable on Church Management and the Nantucket Boys and Girls Clubs, among others. He has also served as a longtime member of Xavier's President's Advisory Council, providing immeasurable guidance and help in keeping Xavier on the forefront of technology and development. He and his wife, Nan, continue to be generous supporters of Xavier, most recently establishing the Nan and Charles Geschke Terrace in the Conaton Learning Commons.

In recognition of his vision, his impact around the world, his openness to new ideas and his willingness to give generously of himself, Xavier University is honored to present Charles Geschke with the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

UNIVERSITY AWARD

Roger A. Fortin

Like all great history professors, Roger Fortin has the ability to engage his students in the details and drama of some worldly event as if he had been there as a personal witness. And like all great administrators, Fortin has the ability to listen, learn and lead. For the last 45 years, Xavier has been the beneficiary of this rare combination of skills.

Fortin came to Xavier in 1966 as an assistant professor of history. He had earned his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from St. Francis College in his native Maine and his master's degree in history from the University of New Hampshire, and was still earning his doctorate in American history from Lehigh University.

Known for pacing back and forth in the room, peppering students with questions, Fortin energetically taught and enlightened the minds of students on subjects such as the American Revolution or U. S. Intellectual History, being named Teacher of the Year in 1972 and earning the Outstanding Faculty Award in 1974. He quickly moved up the ranks to associate professor and professor, and served as department chair for eight years. During his ascent, he was introduced to the administrative side of the University by Frank Brennan, S.J., and he unselfishly stepped in and out of the classroom throughout his career to fill such needed roles as academic vice president, dean of Edgecliff College and director of the library. In 2001 he became the University's first and only provost.

Always the historian, Fortin spent his off-hours researching and writing a long list of articles and publications, including Faith and Action: A History of the Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati, 1821-1996, and Xavier's official historical book of record, To See Great Wonders: A History of Xavier University, 1831-2006. He also shared his love of history with others as the main speaker at 18 regional conferences sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Association for State and Local Histories during the 1970s. He also co-produced and participated in more than 50 educational television programs.

Outside of his work at Xavier, Fortin has served as director of the project to renovate the Historic Cincinnati Fire House Museum, as a board member of the Greater Cincinnati chapter of the Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Foundation and as a director of the St. Xavier High School's Masterwork Study Project.

In recognition of his years of focused dedication to Xavier University and its mission as well as his wisdom, leadership and tireless work in developing the academic lives of countless students, Xavier University is proud to present Roger Fortin with the Paul L. O'Connor, S.J., Leadership Award.

XAVIER'S HERITAGE

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory.

Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building in downtown Cincinnati, was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality drew many local Protestant students.

At the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution in 1840, ensuring a steady source of faculty. Under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

Xavier offered its first evening classes in 1841 and summer courses were introduced in 1914, thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals and aspiring professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity. While women had been attending Xavier's evening college since its early years, Xavier's undergraduate "day" college became coeducational in 1969. In 1980 Xavier acquired the Edgecliff College programs and integrated them with those at Xavier, and by 1987 Edgecliff faculty, staff and students were moved onto the Xavier campus.

Xavier's growth in over a century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by the emphasis on liberal arts learning contained in Xavier's core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values; concern and respect for people; and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

The College of Arts and Sciences, Xavier's oldest college, enrolls approximately 1,975 undergraduate and 40 graduate students, and accepts the primary responsibility for the liberal arts education of all Xavier undergraduates. The Williams College of Business enrolls 1,170 undergraduates and 1,660 MBA students, and is dedicated to preparing business students for positions of responsibility and leadership. The College of Social Sciences, Health, and Education enrolls 1050 undergraduate and 950 graduate students in specialized areas of human services.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing, for example, the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in health services administration is a recognized innovator in the field. The Executive MBA Program, the Health Services Administration Program and the MEd in Human Resource Development educate upper level managers, professionals and executives while they maintain their current positions in their respective organizations. The Department of Psychology offers a master's degree with specializations in General Experimental and Industrial/Organizational. While some of these graduates continue their education, many assume responsible positions in corporate America. The Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) Program holds the distinction of being the first doctoral program at Xavier.

SPECIAL UNIVERSITY PROGRAMS

HONORS BACHELOR OF ARTS PROGRAM

Students who complete a major in classical studies with emphasis on history, literature, Latin, Greek, and philosophy.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Undergraduate students who have completed a series of honors courses in the core curriculum.

COMMUNITY ENGAGED FELLOWS

This nationally recognized service fellowship program honors the highest academic achievement and an outstanding record of volunteer community service. The recipients keep their fellowships through their four years at Xavier by maintaining a 3.25 grade point average and performing ten hours of community service a week. Service fellows receive full tuition, fees, room and board and a book stipend.

PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, AND THE PUBLIC HONORS PROGRAM

Undergraduate students who have completed an Interdisciplinary major in the theory and practice of democratic institutions.

Students graduating today from these three special university programs are wearing blue and white ribbons with bronze medallions bearing the university seal. These medals were presented to them at an earlier ceremony.

HONOR GRADUATES

Honors are awarded on the basis of outstanding achievement in academic study. The undergraduate student must have completed at least half of the degree requirements and half of the courses in the major field at Xavier University to be eligible for honors. These honors are inscribed on the student's diploma, printed on the student's official university permanent record and announced at the commencement ceremony. These students are easily recognizable by their gold honors cord.

SUMMA CUM LAUDE

Bachelor's degree students who have earned a quality point average of at least 3.90 on a 4.00 point scale in college work will be recognized as graduating Summa Cum Laude.

MAGNA CUM LAUDE

Bachelor's degree students who have earned a quality point average of 3.75 to 3.899 on a 4.00 point scale in college work will be recognized as graduating Magna Cum Laude.

CUM LAUDE

Bachelor's degree students who have earned a quality point average of 3.50 to 3.749 on a 4.00 point scale in college work will be recognized as graduating Cum Laude.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE

Students who complete an Associate Degree with the criteria above will be recognized as graduating "with highest honor," "with high honor" and "with honor."

ACADEMIC APPAREL HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

The history of academic dress and its significance has its beginnings from the earliest days of the old universities. As early as the fourteenth century some colleges required scholars to wear long gowns. Specifications of academic apparel became greatly diversified in Europe.

In May 1895, representatives from colleges and universities in the United States met at Columbia University to adopt a national standardized intercollegiate academic apparel code.

The "Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume" was formed in 1902 to serve as the information source in matters pertaining to academic dress. In 1932 the American Council on Education appointed a committee to revise the apparel codes established in 1895. Review and revisions to the 1895 academic apparel codes occurred in 1932 and 1959.

GOWNS

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The master's degree gown has oblong sleeves which open at the wrist and is designed with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. Both the bachelor's and master's degree gowns are black with no trim. The robes worn by Xavier's doctoral candidates are blue. The sleeves of the doctoral robes are longer than the master's, are trimmed in black velvet and have three velvet bands around each sleeve above the elbow. Doctoral gowns from other universities are most often black, but some universities have adopted colors.

HOODS

Hoods are worn for the master's degree. The material of the hood is black and is made of the same material as the gown. The master's hood should be three and one-half feet in length and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging is to be three inches of velvet or velveteen with the color being distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The colors that pertain to Xavier's degrees are as follows:

Arts	White
Business	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Science	Golden Yellow
Health Services
Administration	Kelly Green
Nursing	Apricot

THE DOCTORAL HOODING CEREMONY

The hooding ceremony is the traditional ceremony for conferring the doctorate. The Xavier Doctor of Psychology degree (Psy.D.) is based in the practitioner-scientist model. This means that graduates are skilled in the practice of clinical psychology and in the research process that develops the scientific base of such practice. The hooding ceremony reflects this model. Graduates are greeted and escorted by the Director of Clinical Training, while the hooding itself is carried out by the Chair of the student's dissertation committee and the Chair of the Psychology Department. Thus, clinical work, research activity, and scholarship are all represented.

CAPS

Black mortarboards of the same material as the gown are to be worn with a black tassel for undergraduates and the tassel of the color pertaining to the degree fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap for graduate degrees.

PROCESSIONAL BANNERS

The banners carried in today's ceremony represent Xavier's three colleges. A banner precedes the students from each college.

The College of Arts & Sciences

Wisdom, revealed by Christ and discovered by human reason, was seen in the Middle Ages as a lamp, and the university was created to be the lampstand that would make it shine before all.

The Williams College of Business

The ship of commerce recognizes that the earliest business communication and trade between nations was by merchant ships. The spirit of these early entrepreneurs sparked the growth of modern day business.

The College of Social Sciences, Health, and Education

The orb is symbolic of the many cultures who benefit from the associate through doctoral degree programs offered in professional and liberal arts disciplines. The quill represents devotion to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge locally, nationally and internationally.

THE MACE

The mace symbolizes the legal and chartered authority of Xavier University. It is brought into the gathering immediately before the President. Historically, the mace was a war club. In the Middle Ages it was carried by a bodyguard to defend a person of authority. Today, its purpose is strictly ceremonial and carried by the Grand Marshal. During the ceremony the mace rests at the front of the stage in its holder.

A mace is a custom-made piece of art and sometimes crafted from relics of the university. It can be decorated with gems and precious metals, sometimes in the official university colors. The Xavier University mace was designed and crafted by Bernard Schmidt, Professor Emeritus, of the department of art.

PHOTOGRAPHY

The Seal of Xavier University

The seal of Xavier University combines three principal ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the university; the Jesuit order of which he was a distinguished member; and the university. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal, IHS, the first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek. Below is the Jesuit motto, AMDG [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam], which translates “to the Greater Glory of God,” and the words Vidit Mirabilia Magna, a phrase from the psalms applied to St. Francis Xavier, which translates “he has seen great wonders.”
